Roblox has been criticized for allowing other companies to make games on their site such as "Mining Simulator", which is a game that contains copyrighted material from BeamNG.drive, and "Brain Simulator", which is a clear clone of Brain Cube (which was also created by the same person who created Brain Simulator), and copyrighted material from several other games such as Robloxian Highschool and Backyard Zombies.

ROBLOX has official clients for Windows, macOS, Linux, iOS, Android, Xbox One, and PlayStation 4. ROBLOX also has a game engine called "Build" which can be downloaded for free to those wishing to develop games for their website. Although not officially supported by ROBLOX themselves, the client source code is also available on GitHub. As such, there are unofficial ports of ROBLOX to other platforms not supported officially by ROBLOX such as Xbox 360, Raspberry Pi and Tizen. An early attempt at an iPhone port in 2021 was unsuccessful due to concerns over the stability of the platform and a lack of toolchain support.

Roblox has been criticized for the release of their "2021 Summer Update" which featured new clothing items and accessories. The update was released on August 28, 2021, and it caused some of these items to be very hard to find. This resulted in many of Roblox's users spending a lot of money on the platform in order to obtain these new items.

In May 2021, it was reported that the company had over 300 million daily active players worldwide. This includes the users who are in moderation, which is approximately 95% of all players. In addition, based on their own estimates, they stated that over 50% of these players play Roblox daily.

ROBLOX also allows people to manipulate the games in an unfair way; they can do this by changing the difficulty level of a game or removing potential players from playing a game. They also can sell cheat codes on their website. This is similar to the "scams" created by advertisers in that they are selling cheats for an unfairly high price (such as $2.50 USD) so that only people who pay will be able to use the code to cheat or hack the game. However, this is an unfair way of making money.

Looking back at my own experience with Minecraft, it's so easy to see why people were so obsessed with it. The game was all about survival. It was about building a new life out of nothing. Things that would make you successful weren't free; they required you to work hard for them. But they were worth the wait, because it would mean you'd gather more items over time, and then you could make your house bigger or better fortified. The game was about connecting with your friends, and making sure that they were safe and able to live their own lives in the Minecraft world as well.

On July 15, 2021, Roblox apologized after a server error caused a character called Calvin to be subjected to harassment which included cruel messages. The harassment included being charged with child pornography even when the player was found innocent by law enforcement officials. In addition, this caused some users to temporarily change their username.

On August 31, 2021, there was a large lawsuit that ROBLOX was involved in. The user "Bella Thorne" had an unverified account that was deleted by ROBLOX due to copyright claims, although these claims were proven false. Then, the account was deleted and the user made a video about how her account got taken down, where she shows screen caps of some users who hate her on the website, as well as saying several bad words such as foul language and racial slurs.
